United Church News

The S. S. attendance was below average last Sunday but we are expecting a perfect attendance for the last Sunday in June which happens to be our final session until September, when it will re-open under the capable leadership of Don Petrak.

The church service was well attended and Mr. Ward's sermon was thoroughly enjoyed as was Mr. Tommy Allan's solo.

We are anticipating a large attendance to hear Mr. Ward's farewell service on Sunday June 29 at twelve noon.

A large number of the congregation met with friends of Magrath and Spring Coulee in the Magrath United Church recreation hall to honor Mr. and Mrs. Ward who are leaving early in July for Stony Plains, Alberta.

The evening program was opened with community singing with Mrs. Mildred Attwood at the piano. Mr. Teddy Wagstaff led in the singing and Ray Attwood acted as M. C. for the evening. The program was short, consisting of two numbers from each charge but every number was enjoyed as testified by the applause and encores requested.

Don Petrak favored with two accordion solos, followed by duets by the Longs of Spring Coulee, reading by Mrs. Dave Owen, Magrath, solos by Tommy Allan, accompanied by Mrs. C. Grant, saxophone solos by Ted Johnson, Spring Coulee accompanied by Mrs. Ward and a solo by Miss Beverly Austen, Magrath, accompanied by Mrs. Ward.

A social hour followed and previous to the serving of refreshments, Mrs. Ward favored with several musical numbers and by special request Mr. Pete Vanderhilt and Mr. Ward accompanied by Mrs. Ward rendered solos to an appreciative audience.

Ray Attwood spoke highly in appreciation of the work of the Wards and a leather wallet, donated by Mrs. Lane and filled with donations from the three charges was presented to the honored couple as a slight token of the esteem in which they are held in the community. Mr. Ward in his remarks recalled to mind various incidents in the field which will always be remembered as pleasant or amusing memories—especially fitting was his reference to the door knob of our own local church. He expressed a hope that when next he visited us he would find not only a new knob but also the completion of the recreation hall. Following the singing of "The Church's One Foundation", the pleasant evening was brought to a close with Mr. Ward giving the benediction. Many hearts were heavy with thoughts of parting as the Wards have endeared themselves to all and Mr. Wards work especially amongst the Young People will always be remembered.

A special meeting was held in the church Tuesday evening to make plans for using the concession on the stampede grounds June 30th and July 1st. Mrs. McKean offered to take charge and Jim Dainard took over the task of the ordering while Bill Attwood of collecting and delivering the same to the booth at the grounds. The proceeds will be used in aid of the Building Fund and we hope that any one of the congregation able to work in the booth will contact Mrs. K. Wilde or Bill Attwood to offer his or her services.

We are glad to report that Mrs. John Hellawell is home once more from hospital. She will have a long convalescent period so do drop in and see her at 923-8th St. S. Judy is out of quarantine but Edith is in bed with chicken pox.

Young Donald Ralph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Ralph, who has been a patient in the Children's Red Cross Hospital the past two months, underwent a major operation on his leg last Friday. Although it is not yet known how successful the operation was, Donald is feeling better again now.

His friends and neighbors wish him a speedy and successful recovery.

Plans Abandoned

The plan for modernizing the foyer and installing rest rooms in the Capital Theatre have been abandoned due to local government restrictions.

The plans were completed with the blueprints from architect Norman Fooks of Lethbridge ready to be carried out by local contractors when Mr. Brewerton learned that a change in Town policy made it impossible to carry out his intention. The renovation called for a modern full foyer and box office with an attractive candy bar and modern rest rooms. It was proposed to spend several thousand dollars on the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kenney, Mr. and Mrs. Czar Fairbanks and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kinsey were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kenney in Taber recently.

The Old Red Band Wagon has received another coat of paint and is all ready for the Big Parade on July 1st. It has withstood the rigors of at least one hundred years and is ready for its second hundred.

Local Rodeo Approved By C.P.A.

When the cowboys roar into the arena this year at the Raymond Stampede their wins will add points to their total for the awards of the Canadian Championships. The executive was successful in affiliating the local show with the Cowboy's Protective Association and also the Southern Alberta Rodeo Circuit which will be a bigger drawing attraction as far as the performers are concerned. The contestants this year will be on a go-round between the Show at Claresholm and Raymond—the ones performing here on Monday will be at Claresholm on Tuesday and vice versa.

Other towns in the Southern Alberta Rodeo Circuit are Medicine Hat, Coleman, Cardston, Claresholm and Fort McLeod, Foremost, Taber and High River.

The points earned here will count in the following Canadian Classes:

All-Round Cowboy, Bronc Riding, and Steer Riding and Bareback Bronc Calf Roping, Steer Decorating, Bull Riding.

The Southern Alberta Circuit have a list of Trophies donated by Alberta Firms that are awarded at the completion of the shows in the Circuit.

CPR Offers Low Fares

Low fares to Calgary at Stampede time from all stations in Saskatchewan Alberta and in British Columbia as far west as Vancouver and Prince Rupert were announced today by R. H. Powers, vice-chairman of the Canadian Passenger Association. Stampede dates this year are July 7 to July 12 and the low fares start two days before then and return limit goes two days after the end of the big show.

The special fares will be normal fare and one-half, first class or coach, for the round trip with the minimum for adults or children being 30 cents. Dates of sale are July 5 to 12, providing passengers can arrive in Calgary not later than 5:00 p.m. on July 12. Return limit is July 14 or the first available train thereafter if there is no train service on July 14.

Raymond W.I. Host At Warner Constituency Convention

The Raymond Women's Institute were hostesses to the Warner Constituency AWI on June 20th in the Second Ward Church for the Annual Convention. The Constituency Convenor, Mrs. W. R. Ford conducted the meeting which commenced with the singing of 'O Canada'.

The Flag Salute was led by Mrs. L. Ford of the Sunshine Branch; the Devotional was given by Mrs. Carmine of New Dayton and the Creed was led by a Warner member. A minute of silence was observed in honor of the departed members.

Mrs. Kay Swedish gave an address of Welcome which was replied to by Mrs. Ford. Mrs. Ford then introduced the Provincial President, Mrs. A. B. McGorman of Penhold, and District Director, Mrs. A. McIlroy of Shaunessy; the District Secretary, Mrs. F. Melofont of Warner and Mrs. Dunn of North Taber Constituency.

The 1951 Minutes were read and accepted after a few corrections.

After Mrs. Ira McBride presented the Officers and special guests each with a corsage, Reports were heard from the Standing Committees in the Constituency Branches.

Two songs were sung by the Raymond W.I. Choir prior to Mrs. Ford's Report, followed by Reports from the eight W.I. branches. Mrs. Ford thanked Mrs. Parley Meldrum, Mrs. Winkler and others who were responsible for every convenience for the Convention.

During the lunch hour business was forgotten and they enjoyed the delicious lunch and were entertained by

Old Time Atmosphere Created By Ox Team

One of the feature attractions in the Big Parade on July 1st will be the Ox Team driven by the Boy Scouts. For the past couple of months the Scouts and Clarence Allred, who is the owner of the animals, have been training these two-year-old bull oxen for this big affair. At least they started the training a couple of months ago but in between time one of the oxen disappeared for a month and of course when he was found, his training had to be started over again.

The oxen, the wagon, and the Boy Scouts are ready so bring on the Big Parade!

(If things turn out well this year the Scouts and Mr. Allred hope to make this an annual attraction).

Their Flowers Are Beautiful

This year, as in every year gone by and all those in the future, lovers of beauty have left no stone unturned in their efforts to bring forth a wonderful display of gems that we earthlings call flowers.

Raymond is fortunate indeed to have some very fine gardeners and among the best, in our estimation, are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nilsson. A trip to their home is one that will long be remembered by Roxie, her mother and me for it was a real pleasure to see the accomplishments these folks have achieved in their gardens—flower and vegetable.

Another very fine thing about these people is their generosity with the fruits of their labors.

We offer our congratulations to these folks and wish them many more years to enjoy their beautiful garden.

an amusing skit enacted by four ladies from the Old Ch'ef W. I. The ladies also thoroughly enjoyed the square dance demonstration put on by the Grade two and three classes from Coult's. Joe Blackmore was their instructor.

The afternoon meeting commenced with Community Singing followed by the Financial Report and Convenor's Report. Two local boys, Jack Holt and Frazier Grant favored the group with a Clarinet duet after which Reports were made on the Girls' Clubs.

Mrs. McIlroy spoke briefly after the address by Mrs. McGorman who gave timely advice and expressed her pleasure with the Reports. More music was then enjoyed; a vocal solo by a Warner girl and the 'Highland Fling' danced by four girls from Spring Coulee.

The two Fair Judges, Miss Mosesson and Miss Lila Engborg gave instructions on how to prepare articles exhibit and suggested that the rules and regulations in the book 'Standards for Judging' be followed.

After three vocal solos by Miss Dora Dalton of Lethbridge, Miss Hughson then gave out special prizes for the various articles exhibited.

Mrs. Johnson invited the ladies to hold the next Annual Fair at Spring Coulee.

The concluding number was a duet by two New Dayton girls after which Mrs. Pierson of Jefferson thanked the Raymond W. I. on behalf of the visitors for the good time shown them.

The meeting adjourned after the singing of 'God Save The Queen'.

Hospital Auxiliary Accomplishments

The regular meeting of the Hospital Auxiliary was held Wednesday at the home of the President, Norma Meldrum. The Visiting Committee reported eight visits in June, after which the Treasurer read the financial Report and acknowledged donations. The Buying Committee reported on shelf building and chair repairs.

Donations Acknowledged

Pillow cases—Marie Kinsey
Cash—Mrs. W. Zobel
Nursery Rucker—Mayor Taylor
Labor—C. W. Lamb
Slippers—Irene Cooper

Sewing

On May 14th, 42 pieces were mended by:
Anne Turner, Norma Meldrum, Hazel Meldrum, Retta Heggie, LaRell Holt.

May 28th, 22 pieces mended and 24 new diapers hemmed by:
Joanne Zobel, Irene Cooper, Norma Meldrum, Retta Heggie and Doris Zobel.

June 12th, 14 articles mended; 31 new pieces cut out and sewed by:
Lizzie McLean, Eva Ralph, Norma Meldrum, Anne Turner, June West, Olive Fisher, Edna Gilchrist, Irene Holladay, Manilla Meldrum, Lettie Litchfield.

If anyone has any old robes they could donate to the hospital it would any size and fit man, woman or child be greatly appreciated. They can be but must be washable.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday July 20th at the Town Hall.

Summer has officially arrived but Jack Mehew didn't need the calendar to let him in on this secret. His knowledge of the fact was brought about by the rush of horse-shoeing he has had at his shop—all the part-time cowboys are getting their mounts ready for summer riding.

Newly Weds To Honeymoon In Banff

Milner - Heggie

The Cardston Temple was the scene of a recent wedding when Lois Milner daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Milner and George M. Heggie, son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Heggie, were united in marriage by Pres. Heber Matkin.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white satin which featured a round beaded yoke, a full skirt and long lily point sleeves. The finger tip veil misted from a dainty seed pearl coronet and the bride carried a bouquet of red roses.

In the evening a reception was held in the Stake House when approximately three hundred guests greeted the newly-weds. Also in the reception line were the bride's parents, the groom's father and sister Mrs. Ruby Surenak. Grant Heggie was his brother's Best Man while the Bride's sisters, Alice Wilde, and Lois Milner, in blue gowns were Matron of Honor and Bridesmaid. They carried nosegays of mixed flowers.

Guests were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Parley Meldrum while Beth Pierce, Josephine Litchfield, Anita McBride and Donna Christensen received and displayed the numerous gifts. Mary Court presided at the Guest Book.

Serviteurs for the lovely luncheon were Reva Heggie, Sylvia Christensen, Lynn Galbraith, Nadine Meldrum, LaDean McBride and Geraldine Babb.

A three tiered wedding cake sitting in a bed of pansies centered the Bride's Table. Lighted tapers flanked the cake on either side.

Philip Redd was a very capable master of ceremonies for the following program—"Sometime Somehow Some where", by Frank Taylor and Co. "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses", by Helen Michelson. Mary Court sang two solos, "Too Old To Cut The Mustard" and "May the Dear Good Lord Bless and Keep You". Philip then read a Prognostication of Lois and Judd which was written by Elizabeth King. Mrs. King and Mrs. Fanny Walker sang a duet "When the Dew Is On The Rose". Lowell Wilde sang "Through the Years". A duet by Jim and Joyce Harker was followed by a toast to the bride by Bishop Snow which concluded a lovely evening.

Mrs. Heggie donned a navy knitted suit accented with white accessories for their honeymoon to Banff. They will make their home in Raymond on their return.

Last Saturday evening the Lyle Bigelows, Fred Wendells, Hazel Rebalin, Joyce Milner and Alice Wilde honored Lois Milner and Judd Heggie at a Welner Roast at the Pot Hole. Chatting and singing around the campfire was enjoyed after the last weaner disappeared.

Before packing up and going home Lois and Judd were presented with a lovely bed lamp.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. King had as their guests last week for an enjoyable evening, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brewerton and Sara King. Their guests got a lot of fun out of looking through Mrs. Kings Scrap Books and reminiscing about the past.

A delicious lunch concluded the evening's fun.

'Ye Ed' Attends Official Herald Opening

Monday afternoon we accepted the kind invitation of Senator Buchanan to attend the official opening of his new Herald Building. Roxie and her mother decided not to attend so they spent the afternoon "wish shopping" while Joe and I gathered with quite a number of fellow newspapermen in the large editorial office of the new building.

It was quite an experience to listen to such men as Roy H. Thomson, president of the Canadian Press and owner of a chain of newspapers, and many other pay tribute to the Senator for a wonderful job he is doing and has done with the Herald.

After the official opening by Lieutenant-Governor J. J. Bowlen, and the speeches of welcome and the dedicatory prayer those who had not seen the building before were taken on guided tours by Herald staff members who gave an explanation of the layout and machines. It was a new experience for Joe who was quite impressed with the whole setup—as all of us were.

At six-thirty the publishers met at the Marquis Hotel and were taken out to the Flying Club for a sumptuous dinner roast beef with all the trimmings. There were more laudatory speeches about both the Senator and the new building.

Altogether it was a very pleasant affair and one which we felt honored to be at because although we are certainly not in the same category as most of those present it was a thrill to mingle with men of such great success in the newspaper field.

We add our small voice to a stream of congratulations flowing in to the Senator and the Herald and express our sincere thanks for the assistance we have received from them and for the pleasant relationship we have with them.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Parley Meldrum wishes to thank all who helped in any way to make the W. I. Convention a success.

Thanks go to Mrs. T. Geo. Wood for the use of her flag; to the Legion for the use of their table and chairs; to Miss Engborg and Miss Mosesson, District Home Economists, for Judging the Exhibits; and to the men for helping move the tables and everything that was needed; also to those who donated food, flowers, etc.

The Czar Fairbanks, Jack Kenneys and their guests the Kinseys enjoyed a Sunday afternoon in Waterton while they were here.

Workers Needed In The East

For the tenth consecutive year farm workers from Alberta are required in Ontario, according to J. Lynn, manager, National Employment Service, Lethbridge, Alberta.

Low cost fares enable farm workers from any point in Alberta to move to distribution centres in Ontario on payment of $10.00 only. Return transportation is available between August 15th and 31st at a cost of $11.50.

The low fares are made possible by subsidies jointly financed by the province of Ontario and Federal Government, under the Federal-Provincial Farm Labour program and by special tariffs granted by the railways. The Provincial Government also contributes to the success of the project by assisting in recruiting and despatching workers through their farm help service.

National Employment offices will make all arrangements for the transfer of workers to Ontario.

Color-Branding

Garden enthusiasts who look ahead to spring planting are preparing their tools and tool cabinets for use. One color-conscious gardener has enameled the outside of his tool cabinets in chartreuse — the inside, in pale yellow. The handles of his tools have been coated in a distinctive red-orange tone which not only protects them against wear and tear, but makes them easy to find in the grass and easy to identify when borrowed.

Foot And Mouth Licked

The foot and mouth outbreak has cost us millions in animals destroyed and in the interruption of trade, especially in exports of live animals and animal products to the United States. But the price is trifling compared to what it might have been had the disease continued, and spread, says The Financial Post. Perhaps it is too soon to assume that we are out of danger. But every day clear from now on bolsters the hope that the virus has been stamped out and that within perhaps a few months we can expect to see restrictions lifted and normal markets to reopen.

Harvesting

Within a few weeks the real harvesting of both flowers and vegetables should be under way and where there has been a little planning this should go on right through until fall.

With flowers that make the best bouquets the more we pick the more the blooms. This is especially true with such things as sweet peas, nasturtiums, dahlias, pansies, etc. As a rule it is best to pick or cut these blooms regularly and just as soon as they are open or about to open. If we leave them too long and the Powers start going to seed, all the energy of the plants will go into that and pretty soon blooming will cease. With tiny things like alyssum and other edging plants where picking is not possible, some experts make it a regular practice to shear off the fading bloom with a pair of clippers. Within a few weeks the plants are covered again with fresh blooms. With most flowers it is best to pick early in the morning before the sun has had a chance to fade the colors.

With vegetables the aim is to get prime quality. This means getting such things as peas and corn when the quality is right at the peak, a matter of days only. With beets and carrots, and such things there is less rush, as quality remains high for several weeks. With the latter it is a good plan to continue the original thinning, taking out every other plant until the whole row is gone. With beans and some of the other plants one should avoid harvesting or disturbing the plants when they are wet as this is liable to spread disease.

Protection

June is the time to keep a sharp watch for attacks of disease or pests. All of these can be controlled if counter measures are taken promptly. On the market today are all sorts of prepared dusts and sprays and simple inexpensive dusters and sprayers for applications. That may mean a dog or cat has raced through the garden but it is more likely to indicate insect or disease damage.

Transplanting

If there is any secret about successful transplanting, the answer is plenty of moisture. Under normal conditions it is quite possible to water too often, if not too much, and a hose in the hands of the careless is not always an unmixed blessing. But in transplanting some extra watering is almost vital. In this business it is important to take as much soil with the plant or shrub as possible so that the fine roots are not broken or disturbed. Then the roots must be covered firmly with good, fine soil and dampened down with water. If the sun is hot it is good to shade for a few hours. Better still, transplant in the cool evening.

Pinch 'em

Most beginners are too gentle or tender. They hate to do some very necessary surgery. Take the handling of what the trade calls bedding plants. These are well-started annuals in both the flower and vegetable line which are grown from seed, sown indoors or in hotbeds, or are bought from the seedsmen or florists, usually about a dozen to a box or flat. The beginner is inclined to set these out without any pinching back, or without even removing flower buds or flowers. If just before or after planting one pinches off quite a lot of the growth, and especially all flowers or buds, one will get much sturdier growth and in the end more flowers or fruit.

Election In '53 Means Tax Cuts

What better political bait can there be than tax cuts, asks The Financial Post. And with an election coming next year there will be a great urge to find ways to cut them.

The question no longer is: "Will there be cuts?" but: "How and where?"

In a speech in Montreal, Mr. Abbott admitted taxes were too high, but so long as defense expenditures remain at their present level, he could see little chance of any substantial relief. But if politics dictate it, ways and means will be found. But it will be quite a chore. Nothing less than 10% in the personal income tax would make the voters bite. Yet that would mean a revenue loss of $120 millions. A 10% decrease in the direct taxation generally would cost about $250 millions.

Keeping Posted

One of the RCMP's plainclothes men, on duty at the Canadian International Trade Fair in Toronto, writes Napier Moore in The Financial Post, observed a representative of a large, well-known manufacturer of safes doing a stout selling job on a man who is quite well known to the Force.

Before the salesman went into too much detail about the intricacies of his firm's latest model, the mountie stepped up and gently enquired of the "buyer" whether his interest in the product was quite the same as that of other prospective customers.

The "buyer" took a quick look at the RCMP man and departed. He was one of Canada's most outstanding safe-breakers, just keeping abreast of the latest developments in his field.

Official grading of tourist establishments, as is now being attempted in four provinces, will be quite a job, thinks The Financial Post. It says: "Even with such tangible things as eggs, butter, lumber and wheat, grading has some disadvantages and limitations. There is bound to be a tendency to bring quality down to official requirements rather than to push it higher. And when we come to intangibles like services, which bulk so largely in the tourist business, the difficulties increase."

"A great deal will depend on the individual preferences of the tourist. Some people may want a quiet place, others would find it boring. Some may want so-called plain cooking, others will be disappointed without frills. Some will expect showers, television, tickertapes, steam heat and a whole lot of other things. Hardly souls may crave merely a camp cot or a sleeping bag. And what about scenery, climate and geography? What government inspector can hope to put a yardstick on these?"

"We must still rely on education, competition and training to improve our accommodation. An official sign over the front door will not mean very much unless there is some real intelligence and ability behind it."

More Buying

Consumers are flocking into the stores again, reports The Financial Post. Department store buying was up over 25% for the first week in June over a year ago and for the previous month, was up 10%. Strength seems general pretty well across the board, with only one or two departments lagging (e. g., books, silverware).

Alberta Hotelmen
Provide Large
Scholarship Fund

The largest and broadest scholarship plan ever offered to Albertans was outlined recently by A. G. Swinarton, of Fort Macleod, Alberta Hotel Association President. Designed to assist several students annually, the program is sponsored by the licensed hotelmen of the province, through the Association. Mr. Swinarton revealed details of the plan during his presidential address at the A. H. A. 32nd annual convention at Edmonton.

Mr. Swinarton said that $15,000 would be available for scholarships this year. He added that the amount to be spent annually in future years would be doubled the amount spent on this year's inaugural scholarships.

Financial assistance to worthy students who otherwise would be deprived of their advanced education is provided by the program. A feature of the Alberta Hotel Association's Scholarship Plan is the fact that it will not be confined to University courses. For example scholarships may be granted to those pursuing the fields of agriculture, oil, forestry, mechanics, dress-making, nursing, teaching and other vocations.

The first A. H. A. Scholarships will be awarded following release of Grade XII departmental examinations. This year all scholarships will be tenable at the University of Alberta but this will not be the policy for future years.
